O R, The Crowning of King Charls the II. on the 23. of April

being on St. Georges day, of his going from the Tower of London to White-hall, on Monday, being the 22. day, with his passing by Water from White-hall to Westminster-hall, and from thence to the Abbey, where he was Crowned; From thence quite back again with his Noble train, with the rare fire-works upon London Thames,

To the Tune of Packintons pound.

O F all the rich pleasures that ever was seen,
The like unto this I think never has been;
All people are glad and rejoyce in our Nation,
To think they should live for to see his Coronation:
Let's give God the praise,
To see the brave daves,
And let us repent us of our evill waives,
And then God will bless us in every relation,
And happy will be this our Kings Coronation.

On April being the twenty two day, (war,
The King from th' Tower did then take his
And as for his pleasure he marched along,
Thousands of people did after him throng,
His Majesty then
With his Noble men,
The people still cry'd out, and never wou'd let,
With God bless your Majesty in all relation,
And send you long Raign, and a happy Crow-(nation.

The glass on the windows they then did take
And they on their Chambers made money pound
For the sight of the Gentlemen & there did stand
They had what they pleas'd on them to demand,
And all this was why
The Kings coming by:
They on the tops of the houses did lye,
The like neer was heard of not in any Nation,
As there was prepared for our Kings Coronation.

Four Pageants prepared for the King to pass in,
Like Castles & towers, the like was not seen,
The one imitating Pleasure and Peace (crease
The which from our borders would never be
About it a Wine
Showing Plenty of time, (wine
The conduits did run down with brave claret
The like never heard of not in any Nation,
As there was prepared for our Kings Coronation.

The Second part to the same Tune.

The twenty third being on St. Georges day,
The King then by water did then take his
Where he did go unto Westminster-hall, (way
There the Nobility, Gentry and all
Did meet and did stand
With caps in their hand :
Ready to be at our good Kings command,
The like nere was heard of not in any Nation,
As there was prepared for our Kings Crownation.

From thence to the Abbe he went with his train,
Where the two Bishops did him enter : in
And under his feet there was cloths on th' ground
For to walk on as he went to be Crown'd :
The people did all
Their voices most still,
Cry'd, God bless your Majesty ever more still :
The like nere was heard of not in any Nation,
As there was prepared for our Kings Crownation

(again,
The King then was crown'd & went quite back
To Westminster-hall with his brave noble train
With him his Lords, & Barons & Carls
And all for to beautifie Noble King Charls,
To see people throng
As they pass'd along.
It would be tedious to put in my song.
The like never heard of not in any Nation,
As there was prepared for our Kings Crownation.

The Knights & the Nobles were brave in attire
Which made the beholders much to admire,
The Duke went before him, and the way led,
The King followed after with the Crown on his
The people did shout, (head:
That was round about,
Onely the Phanaticks that stood very mute :
It grieved them to see such a turn in the Nation
And troubled their conscience to see the Crowna(tion.

Then strait came a Champion unto the hall-dore
And out came two Carls, and did put him before
The King call'd him to him & drank in a Cup,
And bad the Champion should then put it up:
The Cup it was Gold
Most rare to behold!
My self I did see it, in by others was told,
The like never heard of not in any Nation,
As there was prepared for our Kings Crownation.

The guns in the ships, and the Canons on shore
The bells and the trumpets most loudly did rore
The bonafires did burn in every street,
And all people made up their joy most compleat,
They feared no dismay,
But thus they did say,
Happy are we for the Crownation day,
The like never heard of not in any Nation,
As there was prepared for our Kings Crownation

A Castle or tower that seemed very good,
Made by an Artift, which on a barge stood,
It stood on the river of Thames there all night,
With fire-works about it most full of delight,
Those fire-works there,
Which I doe declare
Was to the beholders most wondrous rare,
The like never heard of not in any nation
As there was prepared for our Kings Crownation.

And by it a bowling green there did stand,
As seemed as handson as any on land (charges
T'was framed by one man, who thought it no
A most rare green, and it stood on two barges
His Majesty then
With his Noble men,
Might when he pleased to go to that green,
The like never heard of not in any Nation
As there was prepared for our Kings Crownation.

Let all men on earth now but think on this thing
To see how our God have preferred our King,
And let all reforce, and not any be sorry,
And give God the praise, where belongs all the
And honour your King (e loze
In every thing
For he unto us glad tidings did bring,
The like never heard of not in any Nation
As there was prepared for our Kings Crownation.
(raign
Now God bless the King, and send him a long
That truth and peace may with us still remain;
Let all hearts joyne one in love and unity,
And let us pray all for the King Progeny
With Lords and with Carls
That loveth King Charls (Pearls,
He is worth more to us then thousands of
And let any one pray in any Relation
And then God will send us plenty in our Nation.

FINIS.
